

WANTED: YLab Associates

Are you incredulous you are not included in key decisions that affect you as a young person?

Are you often frustrated that social change efforts just treat the symptoms of the problem?

Are you looking for cutting edge work that aligns with your values?

Are you wanting to 'get shit done'?

YES? YES? YES? And YES?

Ok, we're looking for you.

Who are we?

YLab (short for Youth Futures Lab) is a global social enterprise focused on bringing together young people to redesign the systems that shape the world.

Our YLab Associates are a network of diverse young people from across sectors, communities, lived experiences and expertise. YLab Associates work together on the greatest and most important challenges of all time.

Our work is bold, persistent experimentation, designing and developing, inventing and prototyping, creating a portfolio of solutions to complex social problems.

As a YLab Associate you must use your productivity, innovation and creative dynamism to rethink the world.

If you are looking for Business As Usual, this is not for you.

- Endlessly curious, always learning, about themselves and others
- Clear that real change means working together, across all kinds of differences
